THE CANADIAN SPORT AWARDS PROCESS

Overview

The True Sport Foundation (TSF) is the charitable organization committed to ensuring that sport makes a positive contribution to Canadian society, our athletes, and the physical and moral development of Canada's youth. The TSF provides national coordination services, promotional materials, and programming ideas to a broad range of partners, including sport organizations, athletes, coaches, schools, and others involved in sport. In addition, the TSF manages the annual Canadian Sport Awards (CSA).

The CSA are in their 40th year of recognizing and showcasing excellence in Canadian sport. Established in 1972, the CSA have evolved over time to become the premier recognition event for national sporting excellence. The CSA brings together members of the sport community to honour the spirit, drive, and commitment of Canada's international level athletes, coaches, corporations, volunteers, and sport leaders.

Independent Review

The evolution of the CSA brings not only profile and public awareness, but also potential for public scrutiny. In 2001, the TSF reviewed its nomination and selection processes in light of the growing profile of the CSA to ensure that they met best practices. As part of the review, the TSF contracted KPMG LLP to conduct a review of the nomination and selection processes and criteria, identify strengths and weaknesses of these processes, and to provide recommendations. The review also included feedback from members of the sport community (athletes, media, high performance experts, and representatives of the Paralympic and aboriginal communities.) Each year, the TSF reviews the guidelines with its Selection Advisory Committee (SAC), an independent committee appointed by the TSF Board.

Process

Each fall, the True Sport Foundation sends out a Call for Nominations for the upcoming CSA. The call goes out to the broad sport community including National Sport Organizations, Canadian Sport Centers, the media, the federal, provincial and territorial governments, as well as the general public.

Any person that meets the current CSA eligibility criteria may be entered for consideration. Eligible entries are for athletic performances, corporate commitment, leadership, stories, or contributions that have taken place between January 1, 2012 and September 16, 2012.

For all Athlete Performance awards (excluding Junior Athlete of the Year), the Selection Advisory Committee will rank the top 3-5 (where necessary) finalists in each category based on Sport Canada's TOP 8 results. Therefore, no call for nominations for the Athlete Performance Awards will be sought.

Nomination forms are posted for the Corporate Excellence Award, Leadership Awards (Athlete Leadership, Volunteer Achievement and Leadership in Sport), Junior Athlete of the Year and the Spirit of Sport Story of the Year. Upon receipt of on line nominations the TSF will review each nomination to ensure eligibility requirements are met and identifies any concerns, inconsistencies or missing information. The selected nominations are then forwarded to the jury for its review, deliberations, and independent voting (see Judging Process on page 15). The jury is made up of informed individuals from across Canada. They agree to sit for a one to two year-term. Once the jury has submitted its votes, the CSA scrutineers tabulate the ballots and the finalists are publicly announced. The winners will be announced October 17, 2012.

The True Sport Foundation provides one trophy (Triumph Award) per category. Additional trophies may be purchased at cost for other recipients.

- vii) The following principles must be adhered to when developing the jury composition: gender, language, geographic representation and ethnicity.
- viii) The jury is comprised of five to seven individuals from the following groups: athletes, coaches, sport media, sport marketing, consultants, corporations and the sport community at large.

- x) The jury may discuss the eligible candidates amongst themselves, however individual ballots are secret.
- xi) All jury deliberations are confidential. The TSF does not reveal the names of the jury, unless requested. The jurors may not reveal any details pertaining to the specifics of the selection process nor discuss the jury screenings outside the jury session.
- xii) Ballots are secret and will be sent directly from the individual juror's site to the ballot scrutineer to be tabulated.
- xiii) All results remain confidential until the envelopes are opened at the Canadian Sport Awards.

How the voting process works

- i. Nominations for the Junior Athlete of the Year Award, Leadership Awards, Corporate Excellence Award and the Spirit of Sport Story of the Year Award are received by the TSF and checked for completeness and eligibility.
- ii. The TSF Board of Directors or the current sitting jury reviews all nominations, votes and determines the winner for the Spirit of Sport Story of the Year.
- iii. The SAC determines all athletic performance awards based on the TOP 8 results published by Sport Canada and other relevant competitions and ranks their submissions based on the following principles:
  - Nominations have met CSA eligibility
  - To rank individuals according to single best result, taking into account the event for which the performance took place.
  - To assess other performance factors including but not limited to multiple medals, world records and depth of field.
- iv. The SAC's performance rankings are then forwarded to the independent scrutineer (KPMG<sub>LLP</sub>). This forms 60% of the athletes' overall final ranking.
- v. The TSF will forward the names of the top three – five (3-5) candidates, in alphabetical order, to the jury. The SAC's ranking will not be revealed to the jury.
- vi. All other nominations pertaining to the Leadership Awards, Corporate Excellence Award, and Spirit of Sport Story of the Year are sent to the jury and TSF Board which ranks them 1-3 or 5, then sends to the scrutineer for final tabulation.
- vii. Jurors are asked to vote on line and rank in order their top three (3) candidates for each athletic performance category (where applicable) based on the TOP 8 results published by Sport Canada and the significance and impact of their athletic accomplishments. This forms 40% of the athletes' overall final ranking and will be directly forwarded to the awards scrutineer for final tabulation.
- viii. The jury votes are automatically forwarded to an independent scrutineer (KPMG<sub>LLP</sub>).
- ix. KPMG<sub>LLP</sub> tabulates the votes, along with the performance rankings submitted by the SAC.
- x. The top three candidates, if applicable, in each category are publicly announced as the finalists for the 40th Canadian Sport Awards on September 27, 2012.
- xi. In the exceptional circumstance that the nominations process has not resulted in three (3) or more nominations by two weeks prior to the deadline for nominations, the TSF reserves the right to contact the sport community directly to solicit nominations and request further support to ensure a well rounded roster of nominees.
- xii. In the case of less than three (3) entries, the TSF also reserves the right to implement the "Rule of Three". See Definitions
- xiii. The winners are announced at the Canadian Sport Awards on October 17, 2012.

How the votes are tabulated

- i. The ballot scrutineers receive votes directly from the jury. In the case of the Athletic Performance category, 60% of the final ranking will come directly from the SAC, while 40% will come from the jury.
- ii. The scrutineers assign points for each ranking to determine the winner and finalists for each category. (The person with the highest rank will receive 5 points; second place will receive 4 points, and so forth). These points will be applied after votes are tallied to convert total number of points per athlete. The person with the highest score will be selected as the winner and the two subsequent highest scores will be the finalists.
- iii. The scrutineers will forward the top three (3) candidates in each category to the TSF without revealing the winners.

Tied Nominations

The rule for tied nominations will be applied as follows: If there is a tie, the scrutineers will count the number of first place votes to determine the winner. If a tie continues, then the number of second place votes will be counted to determine the winner, and so forth.
